

COMPUTER GENERATED IMAGERY

Pictured above: Mastermover reference photograph

Pictured above: Triton Sawfish Product

Computer view

EXPLORE YOUR CHOICES

Weigh the benefits and drawbacks of choosing between photography, in house design, and Trinity's 3D opportunities and the decision is clear. With Trinity, any environment, any function, any effect can be displayed. From outer space, to the size of a bracket the sky is not even the limit. You can cover marketing imagery, animation, stylized presentations, and anything else that may be needed with one company.

"Trinity is fast, knowledgeable, time effective, friendly, and delivers high quality work. I couldn't ask for more!"

-Jennifer Edwards, Colfax Corp.

Trinity's project manager and animators work with you to explore the options and assist in ideas for finding the most cost effective and functional solutions for your design and animation requests.

See sample work at:
trinityanimation.com

Above and below: Mastermover animation and rendering. Pictured Left: Triton Sharc

EXPLORE THE BENEFITS

See sample work at trinityanimation.com

Pictured above: SolFocus solar panel animation. Pictured left: Lincoln cutaway animation. Pictured right: Landis+Gyr Meter animation and pull apart still frame.

Save
No photography or videography is involved in creating your imagery. This can save all the costs of specialized imaging equipment, skilled operators, custom-built sets and specialty products that are consumed in the production of your imagery.

Inform
Inspire confidence in your consumers and sales representatives with a clear demonstration of your product through animations of the key features and benefits.

Impress
With the power to show your product in any setting with any finish and with any style, the most mundane of topics can become eye catching and impressive.

Expedite
Show your new products faster than photography or video. Trinity can model products before prototypes are made and render them in even the most difficult environments to display, from the middle of the ocean to the center of the desert.

Pictured above: Sunlighten animation Pictured left: Colfax cut away graphic Pictured Bottom: Colfax pump animation Pictured right: Hitchhiker

EXPLORE YOUR OPTIONS

Explode

Surprise and excite your potential clients with flashy effects and up-beat motion.

Peel

Reveal the function and benefits of difficult to view products.

Slice

Demonstrate the inner workings of a product. Trinity can create slice animations to cut to the important interior elements and show them in motion.

X-ray

Make your product memorable with an X-ray effect on your animation.

Imagine

Dream up a stylized or unique way to display your product and work with us to make it happen.

www.trinityanimation.com

"Trinity helped us tremendously with our rather complicated 3D animation for submarine cable laying. There were a lot of back and forth revisions required, and Trinity engineers spent some long hours to get the job done and make it look realistic."

"Thanks for a fantastic technical marketing piece, guys!"

-Duke Hartman, Makai Ocean Engineering Inc

Over 400,000 kilometers of subsea cable installed using MakaiLay

Pictured above: Makaila Pipe animation Pictured middle: Colfax illustration Pictured Bottom: Colfax pipe rendering

No project is too small or too big to discuss. Trinity is constantly adding tools and applying new techniques to improve the process. Trinity's animators have a breadth of backgrounds which lend to a creative and unique approach to different design challenges.

Consider the prospect of showing your product as it's not been seen before and contact Trinity today!

phone: 816-525-0103 email: sales@trinityanimation.com

Pictured above: Landis+Gyr Meter animation. Technical animation demonstrating the data communication throughout a neighborhood to central station.

View samples of our work at www.trinityanimation.com

EXPLORE YOUR PROJECT

Call or email us anytime with your ideas and we can work with you to figure out the best solutions to fit your needs. Our project manager is happy to discuss options and assist with quotes and timelines to fit your budget and schedule. No idea is too big and Trinity is always open to taking new and challenging projects.

phone: 816-525-0103
toll free: 800-548-1578

sales@trinityanimation.com

www.trinityanimation.com